Ray Karr, Regional Administrator,
Securities and Exchange Commission,
821 Second Avenue,
Seattle, Washington.

My dear Mr. Karr:

The brief few hours which I had with you in Seattle were entirely too short to cover all of the things which I wanted to have a chance to go into in some detail with you. The next time, I will plan my schedule differently so that I will not be on the dead run all the time. Nevertheless, I was delighted to get a glimpse of you and the staff and to have an opportunity to meet some of the business and financial leaders of Seattle.

Favenstedt has probably arrived by now. He will no doubt have to be in communication with Washington from time to time for specific instructions, but I hope while he is there he can help you tie up that particular job with paper and ribbon.

Mrs. Douglas and I are deeply appreciative of the hospitality which you and Mrs. Karr showed us. We had a perfectly delightful time with you.

With warm regards and best wishes, I am

Yours faithfully,

Douglas ew
